Spring vacation

Today may be April Fool's Day, but it's no joke... Spring vacation begins tomorrow!

Hordes of happy youngsters will erupt from area schools Friday for a whole week of relaxation prior to Easter, April 11.

Campers are being packed, Easter apparel purchased and, with the advent of last weekend's thaw, the urge to get out has reportedly even spread to the adults.

Vacation, here we come!

Override registration

Registration deadline for the new attempt at the Upland School District tax override is April 15. Elections will be June 21. For late evening registrants Democratic Headquarters, 458 N. Euclid Ave., Upland will be open until 10 p.m. every night except Sunday.

Boys celebrate week

With a full calendar of events scheduled, observance of National Boys' Club Week began Monday at the West End Boys' Clubs.

Joseph E. Parker, executive director, said the week was kicked off with an Election Day, Tuesday, a "Crazy Day" was held in each Branch Boys' Club.

"In celebrating National Boys' Club Week, we join 900 other Boys' Clubs of America with a membership of well over 900,000," said Parker. "That's quite a forest of youngsters proving our theme, 'Good Kids Don't Grow on Trees.' It's our way of saying that Boys' Clubs not only help combat juvenile delinquency, but through their positive approach, they help build Juvenile Decency."

Parker announced that some of the major events planned here also included Swap Night (Wednesday), Beat the Champ! (tonight, Thursday), Parents Day (Friday), All Boys' Day (Saturday).

During the week, he said, visitors are welcome to the Clubs, located at Cucamonga, 10017 Feron Boulevard (987-3515); Ontario, 644 East Francis Street (984-2915); Upland, 845 West Alpine Street (982-7119).

"We invite all interested citizens to visit our Club," Parker said, "to learn firsthand of the facilities, equipment and trained guidance we use to give boys an opportunity to develop into responsible, well-rounded citizens."

No candidate meeting

No "meet the candidates" program has been scheduled prior to Upland School District's school board election on April 20. No group has offered to sponsor such a meeting according to the Upland School District office. The Upland district was recently faced with a failure of a tax override election. Another over-ride election is scheduled for June 21.

Young moviemaker

Steve Vanderbilt, 12-year-old student at Pioneer Junior High in Upland, garnered a first prize for animation in the recent film festival held at San Bernardino Valley College.

The three-minute film entitled "Tom the Head" was Steve's first effort as a photographer-director and will be forwarded to New York for the national competition in the 8 to 12 age group.

Steve's project was shot at home with a 8 mm movie camera using stop action. The story deals with a head named Tom who wishes he weren't a head and goes through his day at home and at school where he is spurned by a girl in his class.

Time passes and Tom turns into a grape. At this point the girl in his class notices him and promptly pops him into her mouth.

The moral to the story is quite appropriately, "Stop while you're a head."

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Vanderbilt, Upland.

Miss OIA finalists

Of the 10 Miss Ontario International Airport finalists chosen last week from a field of 47 Chaffey College candidates, three are from Upland, and one is from Cucamonga.

Local finalists are Karen Ann Abbott, Diane Santarelli and Judy Seaman of Upland and Diane Hanlon of Cucamonga.

The Miss OIA title will be conferred at the Chaffey College Merchandising Club's Coronation and Fashion Show at the college at 8 p.m., April 21. Co-sponsors of the contest are Ontario International Airport and Hughes Air West.

Judging of the contestants at the present stage followed a breakfast for all candidates and sponsoring business men hosted by the Ontario Chamber of Commerce.

Federal funding

Congressman Jerry L. Pettis, R-Loma Linda, announces San Bernardino County has received $691,127,203 in Federal loans, grants, and expenditures for agencies.

This amount is for the fiscal year which ran from July 1969 to June 1970. Within the Congressional District this amount of Federal outlays is 50% larger than the average of all Congressional Districts.

The largest item is the $105 million in pay to active duty military at the major defense installations in the county.

Other Federal expenditures include: $4.4 million to assist in the operation of schools; $81.9 million paid out in benefits from the Old Age Security Trust Fund; $40.6 million in highway planning and construction; $1.6 million in loans to small businesses; and $24 million in Veterans housing loans. The smallest Federal agency outlay was $3,000 paid to a Department of Commerce Patent Officer for work in the county.

A financial reporting system "even a layman can understand" is the aim of the Upland City Council as they prepare to begin budget study sessions.

At a special meeting Monday night in the council chambers, Bryn Evans of Deal-Evans Co., auditors for the City of Upland for many years, explained methods of financial reporting to a short council, Mayor George Gibson and Councilman Ronald Rositter were absent. The mayor is on vacation.

John McCarthy, mayor pro-tem, presided.

Evans said that a city is "established to render service on a non-profit basis." It is controlled by prescribed laws. "A unique financial entity, it does not lend itself to usual financial reporting known in the business world," he said.

"It is hard to understand unless one is specifically trained in the municipal field" because it "precludes the forms generally used in businesses."

In his informative report to the council, Evans outlined city assets, the fact that municipal accounting does not admit depreciation of assets; that each fund (of which Upland has more than 35) must be considered alone because each has its own assets, liabilities and restrictions; and that Upland operates on a modified cash basis accounting system. He also covered methods of municipal finance reporting.

Councilman Bailin at the conclusion of Evans' report, asked to what extent the present system is on computers, Evans said payroll, water billing, and monthly reports were, but not police or planning, as in some cities.

Bailin said he was interested in specifics. A negative figure could represent reductions of plans or of reserves. "This council would never know if the fund was high, low or right. There has been no way of knowing what reserves are in this community."

"We need to know what the reserves are, what funds are needed to carry on without danger."

Bailin cited the figure of $200,000 which he said was a "spin off from the San Antonio Land Company which got buried in the water funds. God only knows where it is now. There is no way to find out in the present fund accounting," he said.

"We have to know and we don't know a damn thing. There is no way we can know unless an accounting system can be developed for lay people. We are three-quarters of the way through the year, and we don't know how much we have or need to carry through the rest of the year."

Bailin said he was also concerned to know how much was in the Parks and Recreation fund and how much the present standards of service cost and how much leeway there was, if any.

He said, "If the others on the council feel the way I do, I'd like to request that you prepare a document on this year's budget reflecting the situation of the fund balance and what the staff feels is a basic minimum and what there is to work with."

Evans said the city budget was on a monthly basis and that the projected cash balance could be handled by the month or quarterly.

Councilman A. M. Hawkins asked the cost of the current system versus developing another method. Evans said it costs about $1,500 per month to run the current system, and that the ultimate to set up and run a different system would be about double that.

Bailin said initially he would be satisfied with a reporting system that established what portion of the budget was funds and what portion reserves.

Hawkins said the current method of financial reporting is adequate showing income and outgo. Evans said, as intended, there is "no problem in accountability, only in the information standpoint."

City Manager Alder said it is better to accomplish what the city is currently accomplishing at the current rate than pay possibly as much as $39,000 per year. He also noted that a great deal of "grief" goes along with any new system until the "bugs" are worked out.

Alder said, "We have the information if we can just put it in a form easy to read. He said Cliff Thomas, city finance director, and Evans could set up and produce such a form."

Evans said it could be incorporated in the upcoming budget. Alder noted Evans had prepared the financial format the city now follows.

Bailin indicated one place for saving... dispense with the fancy covers on the city budgets. "They're pretty, but who needs them?" he asked.

Happy new year!

BY BARBARA TARSHES, Cal Poly Intern

Happy new year! At least that's what April 1 used to be under the old calendar system.

In France, 400 years ago, the reigning monarch announced that henceforth all calendars would follow the new calendar developed along the movement of the earth, rather than according to the seasons.

Prior to that time, a week's celebration had been held beginning on the first day of spring and ending on April 1. The first of April began the new year when traditionally gifts were exchanged.

Persons who did not abide by the king's wishes and stuck to the old-fashioned calendar were called April Fools and gifted with straw-filled candy boxes, bouquet of onions, cotton covered with chocolate or sent on errands to find a copy of the history of Eve's grandmother. Some have benefited from the day of the fools. In France, the Duke of Lorraine escaped captivity when an informer on his whereabouts was called an April Fool.

The Tower of London was the scene of a famous April Fool joke. Area residents were sent engraved invitations to view the annual "Washing of the Lions" at the Tower. When the guests arrived at the appointed time, they found it was an elaborate joke.

Now April Fool's Day is primarily a day for the young to play pranks on each other and their families. A traditional prank is for an older child to send a younger brother or sister on an errand to pick up a book. The "title" of the book is in an envelope. In the envelope is a note that says "I am playing an April Fool joke on my brother. Send him some place else."

Parks & Rec funds lack clear definition

BY JENNY KIRKPATRICK

(Editor's Note: This is a second in a series of stories on the Parks and Recreation controversy. On March 15, the city council abolished the nine-man P & R Committee because, it said, of a letter sent to them by the P & R Committee asking the council's cooperation. The council said the committee asked too much power.)

The Parks and Recreation committee has said the money allotted to Parks and Recreation in the city budget is strung by bits and pieces throughout the budget and is not clearly defined. This tends to handicap the apportionment of the funds and gives rise to questions of why the money is not clearly defined.

Elwin Alder, city manager, has said on many occasions that the city budget reflects any government budget for a general law city and these budgets are not necessarily drawn up like business or personal budgets. (A check of the cities of Chino, Claremont and Montclair show that they do not have this type budget and they are also general law cities.)

A study of the Parks and Recreation budget tends to reflect this type of budget philosophy. Historically, the P & R budget started off with a "catch all" quality when it first appeared in 1912. The money was allotted to maintaining parks, a music program (there was a band shell in town at that time), and advertising the benefits of the city.

In 1930, a special election was held and 15 cents was levied for parks and recreation. At that time money was included for maintaining Euclid Avenue parkways in addition to the 1912 items.

In 1957, a Capital Improvements Committee studying the city's needs chose as first priority water stock acquisition, second priority was a civic center and third was parks and recreation. A survey showed at that time the people of Upland wanted a park where they could go for picnics, complete with tables and BBQs, as well as play areas.

In 1958, the city council adopted a precise plan for P & R, land acquisition was a major priority, although the plan also called for park development on an incremental basis, with development fully completed in 1977. Development has not kept pace with the precise plan. In fact, little has been done in the way of development, and in the case of San Antonio Park and Memorial Park, some things have been discontinued.

In Oct. 1968, the amount of $650,000 in general obligation bonds not to exceed 25 years were sought and as the vote required a two-thirds majority, this election failed. In April of 1969, the bonds were again put on the ballot and then taken off because the council said there was "voter apathy and not enough time to prepare the election." In June of 1970 another vote met with another failure.

Many citizens have expressed concern over the situation in which the city under the Park- ing and Business Improvement Act law of 1965 offered to underwrite a $200,000 bond for a downtown project for 30 years, for 149 businesses bounded by Euclid Avenue and Fifth Street and A through D Streets.

The 10 cent tax money in the Parks and Recreation fund now goes to the general fund since the money for buying sites was taken from the general fund.

Youth Advisory Committee to study teen center potential

The newly-created Youth Advisory Committee for Upland plans to study the potential for an Upland Teen Center, they decided at last week's meeting.

A sub-committee, composed of Blaine Metcalf, Kathy Krynski, Sol Feldman and Carol Harris, were named to the study group to research and review the history of the previous teen center operation and to report back to the full committee at its regular meeting April 13.

A publicity committee, composed of Ruth Ann Eckrote, Andy Wilson and Leesann Modine, were named and charged with exploring avenues of communication between both youths and adults of Upland.

The YAC also formed a third sub-committee, composed of Mike Guerin and Carol Harris, to investigate potential programs involving the younger people of Upland with existing city operations.

In addition to appointing sub-committees, the YAC heard Elwin Alder, city manager, discuss city government and how it is operated. Alder answered questions put to him by committee members.

The Youth Advisory Council urges all interested members of the Upland community to attend their meetings which are held the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m. in the city council chambers, 177 E. D Street.

Input from citizens is vital to the success and implementation of this committee's charge, according to Sue Spencer, chairman of the committee.

Energized

The intersection of Campus and 16th Street was "energized" as a four-way stop March 25. The crossroad is adjacent to the new Edison Company Padua Sub-station now under construction. The white pillars in the background are one of Edison's arches which will carry high voltage wires from the new facility. Another new stop light went into operation March 30 at Mountain and 7th St. in Upland.

Saturday, April 3, will be a shopper's delight on the Pomona Valley Shopping Center in Pomona when more than 20 Junior Achievement companies will set up sales booths in the first of what may be an annual event - "Junior Achievement Day on the Pomona Mall."

Thomas P. Dodge, administrator with General Dynamics Corporation and member of the JA Citrus Belt District Council, pointed out that over 250 young entrepreneurs from Montclair, Ontario, Pomona, Covina, Hacienda Heights and other adjacent communities will display their wares. The products - all manufactured and marketed by the teenagers - include candles, night lights, auto accessories, housewares and other gift items.

Visitors to the Pomona Valley Shopping Center on April 3 will also be able to view several of the JA Companies actually producing their products. Local merchants will serve as judges for the "Best Display" contest and will present a handsome trophy to the winner.

OUT OF MY MIND. . . .

Happy Birthday

It's Happy Birthday time for all April celebrants. Astrologically speaking, you are Aries or an early Taurus. Check your favorite book, seer or computer for your future.

Holidays or days of observance in April are: 1-Loof lrrpa; 4-Palm Sunday; 9-Good Friday and at sundown Jewish Seder begins; 10-Jewish Passover begins; 11-Easter; 13-Thomas Jefferson's birthday; 18-24-National Library Week; 26-30-Public Schools Week. If you are lucky, you get Easter week; if you are not, you may get a three-day weekend during the month. Anyway, have a Happy Birthday and April.

Our first recipe

Here is the first recipe for our "Newspaper Cookbook." It was sent in by Mrs. Theresa J. Knauer of Alta Loma who says it is not an original with her but was one of the prize winners in a Holiday Baking Contest sponsored by the Bloomington (Minn.) Sun in 1964. She adds that these bars are quite rich and expensive to make, so they are just right for any SPECIAL occasion.

CHERRY WALNUT BARS

cups flour and 1/2 cup white sugar; cut in 1 cup butter or margarine. Pat into greased 9x13 baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 12 minutes.

Topping: Beat 3 eggs and 1 and 1/2 cups brown sugar until fluffy. Stir in 1/4 cup flour, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1 tsp. baking powder. Blend in 1 c. chopped walnuts and 1/2 c. chopped cherries. Spread on baked crust and bake for 20-25 minutes.

Cool and, if desired, glaze with powdered sugar glaze made with cherry juice and sprinkle with more chopped nuts.

Store tightly covered. Happy baking.

Big Bear

I recommend that everyone who suffers from the "city blahs" go to Big Bear for a long weekend. It will rub out the "blahs" like vanishing cream.

I had a "do-nothing" and I mean a do-nothing weekend, and it was great. I stretched out in a hammock between two whispering, gossiping pine trees, ponderosas, I think, although they didn't reveal their heritage. Just did a lot of whispering. The sky was b-l-u-e and filled with sunshine, clean at that. The stars at night stand out like a planetarium diorama and best of all, it's between the ski and camping season and there were no crowds. I almost decided to move up there for good, but then where would I go to get rid of the "city blahs?"

Wanted YOU

Many worthy organizations in the area need a helping hand and of course money. But mainly these organizations need a portion of your time to help. Why not figure out how much your time is worth and donate it instead of money to an organization? Needed this week is support for the Woodcraft Rangers, help for the Junior Achievement Program, and aid for the Ontario-Upland YMCA.

Open house planned

Women who would like to volunteer a few hours a day or week at the El Monte Convalescent Center, Hacienda Heights, are invited to attend the First Anniversary open house of the Recreational, Entertainment, Service Auxiliary, on Saturday, April 3, from 2 to 4 p.m., at the center, Hacienda Heights.

What's doing at the Boys' Club? Busy time for boys

UPLAND - What's going on at the Upland Boys' Club?

Many classes and activities abound at the Upland Boys' Club and among them the judo class leads the popularity parade.

The class is taught by Clay M. Ambrose, a black belt holder who has studied judo, karate, aikido and fencing for the past seven years. He has taught judo to children in both the United States and Germany and was, until his transfer to California for college, the head judo instructor at Bushido School of Judo and Karate.

The judo class at the boys club was started in November, 1970 and has been named the Alpine Judo Club. There are 34 members in the class which meets twice a week.

Members are between the ages of 8 and 13. They are presently practicing for a demonstration to be given for parents and other interested persons in May.

Hip throw

Instructor Clay Ambrose explains a major hip throw to Upland Boys Club members Dan Reese, bottom and Reede Phelps, top, as other members of the local club watch.

Another busy class at the club is one concerned with candle dripping. It is taught by John Musser, a volunteer. Boys choose any type of bottle as a candle holder, then proceed to use candles, crayons, etc., melt them and drip the wax on the bot-ties, providing colorful markings.

More than 20 boys are in the class which is in need of candles. Area residents having old candles or crayons around are urged to donate them for the candle dripping class.

ACE Drug Committee views films at meeting

CUCAMONGA -- The Alta Loma - Cucamonga Etiwanda Drug Prevention Committee saw films on "uppers" and heroin at their last regular meeting at Cucamonga Elementary School.

Eric Sprado, guest speaker, talked about the need for a drug counselor in the schools and the need for a drug counseling center in the area, specifically one outside the school system.

Youth groups attending the session were from Alta Loma Junior High and Los Amigos Junior High. The representatives of these schools said they felt the films shown were appropriate for junior high and fifth and sixth grade viewing.

Next meeting of the ACE drug group will take place April 19 at 10 a.m., in the Central School Library, 7939 Archibald Ave., Cucamonga.

A better Pledge Of Allegiance?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was printed in the Montclair High School newspaper, the Clarion. The article is being reprinted, not for content, but as recognition, on behalf of the Montclair Tribune, of this city's youth -- positive thinking, with maturity and, in their own way, looking to the future of this country.)

BY BARRY SEXTON
Montclair High School Student

Acting has become a part of our everyday life in the United States. Every day people act out their little roles, some to show how patriotic they are and some to show how radical they are.

The state realizes that people need a time to act, so they make each school (in its own way) act a little a day. Our five minute acting period comes at the beginning of 3rd period simultaneously with the flag salute.

The flag salute means a lot of things to some people. A lot of people still say it in an enthusiastic manner with a smile on their faces. Most of the people I see saying it have a "somewhere else" look.

In order to show my views better, I should like to print the flag salute.

I pledge allegiance to the flag, of the United States of America, and to the republic, for which it stands, One nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The very first line of this famous verse doesn't make a very good impression, for it says in so many words that we are pledging our allegiance to a flag (a piece of cloth), and a country (a name) which is more important than the people who live under the name and piece of cloth. We are also pledging allegiance to a name that is presently engaged in a war.

Indivisible, with liberty and justice for all? What a put on, I'm sure I can find people who wouldn't agree with this, (the Indians on Alcatraz, for instance).

I would now like to propose that we stop saluting just a portion of the world's population, in other words, drop the present flag salute, I derived from the first one, with a few changes, one that I think we would be better off with.

I pledge allegiance to mankind of every land and nation, to a proposed republic, dedicated to stand, one people (under God) Striving for freedom, justice and liberty for all.

As you can see it is similar in some aspects to the present flag salute, but the main difference is in the fact that you are pledging allegiance to people, all people; you are not separating them by any nationalistic obstacles, and you see the whole world as a republic, not one country.

"The world is my country; all mankind are my brothers" was spoken by Thomas Paine, a statement we all may learn from.

Emphasis on growth and awareness Parent-child class

MONTCLAIR -- Pre-school children have the opportunity to experience a growth-producing environment that develops self-esteem, awareness of others and to further the joy of living. Unique? Parents and children attending the Parent-Child relationship class think so.

The class, sponsored by the Chaffey District High Adult Evening school takes place at Margarita Elementary School in Montclair.

School is open three mornings a week from 9 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. The children attend all three mornings while their parents, mothers or fathers come two mornings a week and one evening per month.

Each parent takes part in a seminar group once a week, to further information regarding children and their growth.

The class gives the parents and children the opportunity to practice while they are learning.

Parents' participation is very important to their child and the over-all nursery school program. They learn together and have fun doing it.

The teacher is Mrs. Pat Mohr. The course is offered twice a year with a cost of $2 per semester enrollment.

Altar Society

MONTCLAIR--The regular meeting of the Altar Society for Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church will be held April 7 in the conference room beginning at 8 p.m.

Margaret Russell will be the guest speaker. She presents a very interesting program on color coordination as applied to home decorating wardrobe and make-up.

Beginning artists

Dale Arends

MONTCLAIR -- Navy Petty Officer Third Class Dale E. Arends, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Arends, of Montclair, is serving aboard the amphibious dock landing ship USS Monticello which visited Sydney, Australia, while deployed in the Western Pacific.

'Rub out Rubella' free clinics planned

It's German Measles (or Rubella) Roundup time in the West End for children 1 through 11 years old! Two free immunization clinics will be in operation and available to the public.

The first such clinic will be held on Saturday, April 3 at the Ontario High School, 901 W. Francis St., Ontario. The clinic will be located in the High School's cafeteria - the large building on the South side of the sunken quad and just in front of the swimming pool. The clinic will operate from 1-4 p.m.

The second clinic will be held the next day, Sunday, April 4 at Chaffey High School, 1245 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario. This clinic will be located in the High School's cafeteria which is adjacent to the 4th Street parking lot, next to the hand-ball courts. The clinic will operate from 1-5 p.m.

These free public clinics are being offered to all youngsters not previously immunized at school or by their doctor. And, parents are advised that this one shot protects their child against Rubella - also called German Measles - which will help protect a pregnant woman from possibly giving birth to a "Rubella Baby" - a child born with serious birth defects.

Parents must understand that their child needs protection against two kinds of measles. Even if he was immunized against the regular 10-day - or Hard Measles - he still needs additional protection against Rubella, the German Measles.

These special community clinics are sponsored by the Ontario-Montclair Junior Women's Club, Mrs. Julie Kalnas, Health Chairman; the March of Dimes; the Easter Seal Society, and the San Bernardino County Health Department.

Pre-registration forms are now being delivered door-to-door by teams of women volunteers in order to speed youngsters through the clinic. Parents are urged to complete the Immunization Request Form before coming to the clinic. "Pop-Goes-The-Measles" balloons and badges will be given to each child after his immunization.

Educational information will be available and furnished by the March of Dimes. The clinics will be staffed by volunteers recruited from the women's groups located in the Ontario-Montclair area. Forms completed at home and accompanying the child will permit an immunization every 10 seconds! Now with the development of a new vaccine effective against rubella, parents can protect their families, their friends, and their neighbors against one of the most dangerous virus infections of all.

Everyone in Ontario, Upland, Montclair, Chino San Antonio Heights, Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Guasti - the "West End" - is urged to do their part to "Rub-Out-Rubella" at the West-End Community Clinics by prompt and efficient immunization.

Glen Helen trout catch contest opens

Each year at Glen Helen Regional Park, trophies are awarded to the senior and junior fisherman for the heaviest single trout caught during the year. Many trout were recorded during the year, and the Junior Division winner for 1970 was 13 year old Irving Shirley, residing at 6266 Chiquita St., San Bernardino. Irving's entry weighed in at 2 lbs. 8 oz. This trophy trout was caught during the Thanksgiving Trout Derby at Glen Helen and also won first place in this contest for the heaviest trout caught during the Derby.

Irving stated that his cast was directed to this big one three times before he finally hooked and landed him. The Department of Regional Parks congratulates this young fisherman and is looking forward to his return to Glen Helen.

The runner-up and winner in the Senior Division is Mr. Edward Waggoner, who resides at 3668 No. "F" Street, San Bernardino, Calif. His trophy trout weighed in at 2 lbs 4 oz, and was caught during a fairly cold and windy day. Comments made by Ed Waggoner were: "It had been a long and rewarding day of fishing, so I decided on just one more cast. With this last cast, I felt a couple of nibbles, then a strong pull. I set the lure deep and gently reeled in this beauty. My day of fishing was complete."

Glen Helen Regional Park will continue this contest throughout 1971. Over 2500 lbs. of catchable trout have been planted so far this year, with an additional 2500 lbs. more to be planted. Among the fish planted are 30 to 40 trophy trout, weighing from 2 to 4 lbs. The Department of Regional Parks encourages all anglers to try Glen Helen's main lake and to record any large trout caught during the year with the Park Rangers.

In charge of arrangements are: Tickets, Mrs. John Long and Mrs. Jess Smith; menu, Mrs. Harold Roossian and Mrs. Thomas Fee; dining room, Mrs. Ed Hemmer; prizes, Mrs. Mart Bender and Mrs. Henry Weaver; decoration, Mrs. Frances Rogers and Mrs. Ethel Marsh; publicity, Mrs. George Clemens.

Benefit planned

Plans for the Fifth Annual Dinner Dance given for the benefit of the San Bernardino County Chapter of Cystic Fibrosis were formulated at the recent meeting of Salon #58 of Eight and Forty held at the Muscovy Grange Hall and presided over by Chapeau Anna Marie Lantz of San Bernardino.

All proceeds from the dinner-dance, which will be held on Saturday night May 1st at the American Legion Clubhouse 310 W. Emporia St., in Ontario, will be donated to the Drug Fund to be used at the newly formed Inland Empire Cystic Fibrosis Research Center.

In addition to the officers, other Board members include Fred Riggelman, Mrs. Jean McMillan, Mrs. Munson, Edith Kern, Frank Char-

No more 'spreading chestnut trees'

Today's blacksmith-- he's a traveling man

PHOTOS & STORY BY BOBBE MONK

Ready Comanchero?

Rhonda Cluck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cluck of Cucamonga, holds her 3-year-old quarter horse Comanchero as he watches preparations for his new shoes.

Clang! clang!

Red hot and pounded, George lifts horseshoe from anvil to cool it and try it on horse.

Not bad fit

George Blade, farrier, (which means horse-shoer) checks fit of horseshoe on Comanchero as owner, Rhonda Cluck of Cucamonga, soothes the animal in background.

"Under the spreading chestnut tree the village smithy stands."

Not quite. Today's "smith" or farrier or horseshoer, depending on your preference, doesn't stay long in one place. He's a traveling man.

Take George Blade of Chino. Recently, looking across a grassy Cucamonga field adjacent to the post office, George was espied working on Comanchero, a horse belonging to teenaged Rhonda Cluck of Cucamonga.

The lowering skies spattered rain occasionally, but failed to deter George from his work, which brings him an average of $15,000 yearly, he says.

Not what you'd expect a "smith" to look like, 26-year-old George is handsome and muscular without being brawny. He has been around horses since he was 12, but has been following the farrier trade only since he left the Army some 3-1/2 years ago.

A trade one might think was on the wane, George relates that in Los Angeles County alone there are 5,000 farriers working with a population of 250,000 horses.

The hardest part is the forge work, where the hammer and anvil are still used to pound the shoe into shape after heating. A 12-volt Cadillac heater is hooked to the forge to provide a blower rather than the outmoded bellows. Everything fits neatly on the back of a pick-up truck.

Although admitting that most of the horseshoers follow the races to work on thoroughbreds, George prefers what he calls the "back yard" trade, working for people who have one or more horses stabled at their homes.

"The clientele is better and you get to know the people," he says.

Heating up

George Blade, Chino Farrier, fires up his forge to heat horseshoes.

Finishing touch

Filing off the shoe nails where they protrude through horse's hoof, Blade finishes his four-way job as Rhonda smiles.

Learn how to get your garden to help with the gardening!

Attend Colonial Savings' week-long series of FREE gardening lectures, 10:30 a.m. daily, April 5 - 9.

There's a new way to care for plants. "Just relax and watch 'em grow." That's JOE LITTLEFIELD'S idea of successful gardening. And he should know. Mr. Littlefield is one of the nation's foremost garden lecturer-consultants with more than 40 years experience in horticulture. Formerly the star of his own radio and TV garden shows, he now writes garden columns for 23 newspapers and magazines.

Best of all—he'll be at Colonial Savings this coming Monday, April 5, at 10:30 a.m., to pass on some of his secrets at an informative and entertaining session that will kick off one solid week of free lectures by the most impressive array of gardening experts ever assembled in the Pomona Valley.

For instance, at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday, April 6, DICK TILFORTH, noted horticulturist from Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Gardens, will join us to share his ideas on how to make gardening easier by growing California native plants.

Then at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, April 7, DOROTHY CRALLE, renowned developer of world-famous miniature roses, will be our featured lecturer. Not only will she talk on the culture and feeding of roses in general, but she will also actually demonstrate her special technique for growing roses in miniature and then provide helpful hints on making unusual flower arrangements.

On Thursday, April 8, again at 10:30 a.m., KHAN KOMAI, well-known authority on the ancient Japanese art of bonsai (forcing trees to grow in extreme miniature) will be on hand to give a fascinating demonstration of his specialty.

Finally, at 10:30 a.m. on Friday, April 9, GORDON LINDSAY, famous expert on weed control and the use of garden chemicals, will round off our program with an up-to-the-minute talk on the proper ways to fertilize and nourish a garden using the latest non-polluting, bio-degradable chemicals.

We know you won't want to miss any of these fascinating lectures, so plan to attend today. But remember—there's sure to be a big turnout and our seating is limited. So advance reservations will be necessary. However, we'll be glad to save you a seat at any or all of these sessions if you'll just call us right away. Our number here at Colonial Savings is 624-9001.

And when you attend, be sure to take in our exciting exhibits of prize-winning flowers, horticultural sciences, the latest in garden chemicals, and the newest indoor and outdoor recirculating waterfalls and fountains.

They're all part of our week-long "Flower Show and Gardening Symposium" which we're co-sponsoring with the Pomona Valley Fuchsia Society—and it's all open free of charge during our regular business hours—9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and on Friday till 6 p.m.

What's more, everyone who stops by during this gala gardening event will receive an exciting educational horticultural gift absolutely free—one that is sure to add flowering color to any garden.

So make it a point to join us next week and discover that you don't have to be the Jolly Green Giant to have well-developed green thumbs.

Uplanders slate pot-luck

Pee Wee Gymnastics

The Pomona Valley YMCA has announced the beginning of the next session of Pee Wee Gymnastics which will start on Monday, April 5. The objective of the class, which consists of boys and girls, four through seven years of age, are twofold.

First, the class develops hand-eye coordination, which has been shown to have close relationship to reading skill. Secondly, the class endeavors to improve and teach basic movement patterns leading to body coordination through gymnastics and pertinent exercises specifically designed to meet the needs of growing bodies. For further information, call the "y" at 623-6433.

UPLAND - The New Uplanders Club will hold a pot luck luncheon on April 14 at the Upland Cascade Recreation Hall, San Bernardino Road, and Grove Avenue in Upland.

The business meeting begins at 11 o'clock, followed by lunch at noon.

Speaker for the day will be Beverlee Kelley, creator of the Beverlee Kelley Charm-Fashion Schools for five through eleven year olds. Many leading department stores are presenting Mrs. Kelley's charm-fashion course, including Buffum's in this area.

In 1967, Beverlee Kelley Fashion Productions was formed to assist high school and college age girls in developing careers in modeling. The Fashion Productions group will be touring Europe in June.

Mrs. Kelley will speak to the New Uplanders on "A New Way to Talk to Children."

Mrs. Donald Scharbrough, social chairman, announced plans for a Luau April 17 featuring an authentic roast pig feast prepared by Danny Kinikini, from Tonga Island. Entertainment will also be provided at the event, beginning at 8 p.m., at the Upland Cascade Recreation Hall.

A rummage sale will be held May 6 and 7 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., at the building at Second Ave., and Ninth St. in Upland. The public is invited to stop in and shop. Proceeds from the sale will go for a Nursing Scholarship at Chaffey College for a needy girl in the area.

Newcomers in the Upland area of less than one year are welcome to attend the monthly luncheons of New Uplanders, held on the second Wednesday of the month. Please call Mrs. Bruce Wishard at 985-5679 or

Mrs. Giles Clark at 985-7634 for information and reservations.

Easter pets should be chosen carefully

Giving a baby chick to a child at Easter may cause more trouble than pleasure, said Bruce Richards, executive director, of the Humane Society of Pomona Valley. According to Richards, a fluffy chick in an Easter basket could lead to physical illness or psychological trauma for the child, and probable death for the pet.

The humane society urges parents, relatives and friends to end the practice of purchasing these living creatures as gifts for children. The California penal code 599, makes it a misdemeanor for anyone to sell, offer for sale, give away as a prize, barter, dye or otherwise artificially color, any live chicks, rabbits, ducklings or other fowl, Richards said. Furthermore, he added, the code does not apply to hatcheries or stores regularly engaged in the sale of animals and fowl.

No animal is less likely to survive in the home atmosphere than a baby chick. According to Richards, a young child's enthusiasm over its new pet often leads to intensive cruelty as legs are broken and wings crushed. The young child rarely has known death and the demise of a baby chick can lead to emotional trauma. The Humane Society cautions parents to be aware of this danger should their child receive an Easter type animal.

Added to the inherent cruelty is the matter of public health. Recent disclosures by numerous health authorities including the National Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, reveal there is the possibility that children and adults in close contact with these baby animals may be exposed to salmonellosis, a severe gastrointestinal illness. In a number of instances, the illness has been directly traced to the presence of an Easter type animal gift in the home.

Still a third aspect of the Easter chick or bunny should be considered. Within a few weeks of the holiday, literally thousands of hapless gift animals are taken to animal shelters across the nation. Few people think ahead to the fact that - if they survive - a baby chick grows into a chicken and a bunny grows into an adult rabbit. Because of the great number of such animals arriving at humane societies at this time of year, it is virtually impossible to place them in homes.

Richards concludes by saying baby chicks and bunnies are not suitable pets for Easter giving. Make this year's holiday a happy one for youngsters by selecting a chocolate bunny or chick instead of a living fragile creature.

Golden Nugget fashions

A fund-raiser fashion show for the Golden Nuggets baton twirlers was staged recently at the Ontario Woman's Club. Sharon Eckert, director of the Golden Nuggets, and coordinator of the show was one of nine models. Ron Herman, owner of an Ontario dress shop, furnished the fashions and narrated the show.

Pst! it's tax time

Taxpayers are urged to prepare their State personal income tax returns early and to pay the full amount due by the April 15 deadline in order to avoid penalties.

New penalties are imposed on taxpayers who file their return without full payment of the tax due. Martin Huff, Executive Officer of the Franchise Tax Board, warned today.

There are no provisions in the law for partial or installment payments and unpaid tax is subject to an immediate five percent penalty plus an additional one percent per month combined penalty and interest.

"Waiting until the last minute may be costly in more ways than one," Huff warned.

Too often, he said, the taxpayer finds himself lacking the information to justify deductions or the funds readily available to pay the amount due.

La Verne club participates in two-day event

Desert safari for jeeps

By Gloria Licurgo
La Verne Jeep-A-Bouts

Each spring four-wheelers swoop down on the famous Borego Desert Badlands - and the whole operation looks like a military invasion. The La Verne Jeep-A-Bouts entered their ninth annual two-day "desert safari" held in March.

This grand daddy of off-road cavalcades is sponsored each year by San Diego's Tierra Del Sol 4-w-d club, bringing 4-w-d enthusiasts from all of California and neighboring states.

Early Friday arrivals included four-wheel-drive vehicles pulling trailers or campers, or vice-versa; the week-end motor homes pulling the jeep, Toyota or Bronco.

On Saturday morning the 582 registered vehicles and approximately 1,800 persons (mostly families) began to roll, and it took 25 minutes for the first 450 vehicles to pass the starting point.

They all followed trailmaster Tex Webster and his crew. Drivers and vehicles were put through a rugged test of skill in maneuvering and mechanical durability, on a course laid out through the Truckhaven Hills of the DeAnza Borego Badlands.

Sculptured giant canyons and washes formed the badlands. At one point, a drop-off crept up on Mark Putnam (Jeep-A-Bout), and his jeep decided to "show-off" by standing on its nose at the bottom. Mark came out of it laughing; not a scratch on jeep or driver. Good safety equipment, a requirement for all four-wheelers, prevented an injury.

A series of hair-pin turns, on a terrain that made the four-wheelers tilt over almost on their sides, inside a tight canyon called the "notch," was the highlight of the run. For the longer four-wheel vehicles there was an alternate route. Everyone made it through the "notch" -- all but one Bronco, who had to be left overnight with a broken steering box.

There were a few other breakdowns during the two day "safari" including a broken bell housing and a broken drive shaft and spiders (hooked up to a 500 H. P.).

The four-wheelers began rolling back into camp at about 2:30 p.m. to relay before the evening festivities at camp headquarters.

Upon registering, a donation of five dollars per vehicle entitled the donor to a chance ticket for prizes, some literature, a "safari" bumper sticker, plus the very popular dash placque. The Jeep-A-Bouts claimed one prize.

On Sunday there was another cruise, directed in a western direction from camp thru the clay hills, near the old Truck-haven Trail area.

When participants returned home after this week-end, they could tell of real adventure - of riding on roads hundreds of years before they are built; through land they could describe as weird, awesome, primitive and moon-like - the last frontier!

USC open house

Ray Arbuthnot of La Verne scans a copy of USC's Review with Linda Smith of USC's Office of Special Programs, as they aid in plans for USCaleidoscope III, USC's annual all-University Open House, Sunday, April 18, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The La Verne resident is a member of the board of governors of USC's General Alumni Association. Day-long program of exhibits, entertainment, lectures, demonstrations and tours will be free and open to the public.

Japanese teens seek pen pals

Dear Editor:

We are writing this letter as we learned the name of your paper through the "Editor & Publisher" International Year Book.

We, a group of Japanese young people, have formed a Pen Pal Club (International Pen Friend Club, International, P. O. Box 5313, Tokyo, Japan) and earnestly hoping to join hands with all the people of the world in making an exchange of letters and other items among themselves.

For the above reason, we are very anxious to have the names and addresses of those pen pals in your country who might take an interest in our plan through the assistance of your paper.

If you would publish our request, in your paper we would greatly appreciate your courtesy.

In case your paper is unable to do so, please pass this letter on to some schools or youth clubs so that they can contact us.

We hope you will be able to help us in our plan so that even if only in a small way we can contribute to international friendship and understanding.

California wines popular in America

Americans enjoyed more California wine in 1970 than in any other year in the two-century history of the California wine industry, President Harry G. Serlis, of the Wine Institute, reported.

California wine shipments of over 196 million gallons last year established the fifth straight record year for California wine sales. The total exceeded 1969 shipments by almost 24 million gallons, an increase of nearly 14 per cent, and the largest overall percentage gain since 1948.

California table wine shipments in 1970 hit an alltime high of over 111 million gallons, the first time in the history of the California wine industry that they exceeded 100 million gallons in any year. This represented an increase of 23 million gallons, or almost 27 per cent over the previous year.

California sparkling wines reached a record 14 1/2 million gallons, an impressive 63 per cent gain over 1969, when sparkling wine shipments totaled just under 9 million gallons.

Dessert wines totaled 70 million gallons last year, compared to almost 76 million gallons in 1969. California vintners have begun producing lower-alcohol Sherries (17%) and then dessert wines (18%), Serlis reported, "and we expect them to create new interest in our appetizer and dessert wines among the wine-buying public."

"Our vintners are offering ever better wines and ever better value," Serlis continued. "More and more Americans feel comfortable with our wines, feel that they can trust their personal taste, and they like the taste of our wines.

"The 1970 sales gain further confirms the view that California wine has become a part of the life-style of many American adults -- young and old-- and is being used with ever greater frequency with meals in the home, as well as in social and recreational pursuits, when dining out in restaurants, hotels and clubs."

LA Zoo admissions cost more

Housewives worried about rising food prices will understand. Businessmen trying to balance budgets will understand. Workmen considering costs of equipment, materials and repairs will understand.

The Los Angeles Zoo must raise its admission price for adults from $1 to $1.25, beginning April 1. Children under 11, accompanied by an adult, will still be admitted FREE, and the fee for juniors, 12 to 15, remains 50 cents.

It just plain costs more to run a Zoo these days, particularly a good Zoo with high standards of animal care and public safety.

Healthy animals require nourishing, scientifically balanced diets to keep that way. Each week the Zoo purchases 1,400 pounds of fresh meat at fluctuating prices; 7 cases of eggs, 30 dozen per case; 77 cases of apples, 28 cases of lettuce and 49 lugs of grapefruit -- not to mention such items as milk, nuts, grains, alfalfa, birdseed, monkey chow and dozens of others by the carload.

Increasing the adult admission price by 25 cents won't solve all the Zoo's problems, of course, but it may help.

We knew you'd understand.

Baseball fun for fans

"You don't have to be a softball fan to like the 'King and His Court', according to Eddie Feigner, founder, mentor and star performer of the diamond's awesome four-some.

"Some of our best fans are women who think a strike is something you get when you bowl."

"Our bag is entertainment," says Feigner, "and as long as we can make the fans laugh and cheer, we're happy."

The fun will begin at 7 p.m. on April 3 when the jolly jesters take on the Los Angeles team at John Galvin Stadium in Ontario. Tickets may be obtained at 212 Holt, Ontario.

Camera buffs competition at the fair

Master lensmen from all corners of the globe, along with the less-skilled but dedicated amateur photographer, are eligible for competition in the 15th annual International Exhibition of Photography at the Los Angeles County Fair, Sept. 17 through Oct. 3.

Entries in the print division close Aug. 26 and will be judged on Aug. 28. Color nature slides and color pictorial slide entries close Sept. 2, with judging set for Sept. 4 and 5.

Sequence shots are eligible in each of the divisions. Entry forms and a brochure containing full information are available free of charge by writing the Los Angeles County Fair, Box 2250, Pomona 91766.

In recognition of the 15th anniversary of the Fair's photo exhibition, a plaque will be awarded to all participants of each salon 1957 through 1971. Trophies will be awarded exceptional slides and prints.

San Onofre Bluffs state park will open

A brand new State Beach will open to the public for the first time Easter week in a kickoff campaign to raise money for permanent developments, the California Department of Parks and Recreation reported recently.

The area, presently called San Onofre Bluffs State Beach, in San Diego County, is 3-1/2 miles of virgin ocean frontage leased to the state by the Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton. Sponsor of the fund-raising campaign is the California State Parks Foundation.

All types of camping except tent camping will be allowed. This restriction on tents is necessary, the Department said, because all camping will occur on the pavement of the old Highway 101, and tent stakes cannot be driven through the pavement. Other activities will include picnicking, swimming, fishing, hiking on designated trails, sight-seeing, beach combing, sunbathing and beach play.

The State Beach will open at 8 a.m. Saturday, April 3, and will close at sunset Sunday, April 11, with camping space for 250 families and day use parking for an additional 1,000 cars. All campsites will be issued on a first-come, first-served basis, and will cost $3 per night. Day use fee will be $1 per car. All proceeds will be donations to the State Parks Foundation.

"The state only learned late in 1970 that this beach would be available," Long said, "and this came after many years of negotiations, so there was no way to anticipate the lease of this land at this time."

Long added that the Foundation had undertaken this fund raising project to speed up development of the State Beach so that it can be opened to public use this summer.

Explaining the role of the Foundation, Long said it was organized in 1969 as a voluntary, non-profit California corporation whose whole purpose is to receive bequests, gifts of cash, securities, real estate and other property for the use of the California State Park System. All gifts are tax deductible.

Contributions to the fund to develop public use facilities at San Onofre Bluffs can be made at the beach during the April 3-11 period, or by mail to the Foundation, 315 Montgomery Street, San Francisco 94104.

San Onofre Bluffs State Beach, part of the Camp Pendleton Marine Corps base, has been leased to the State by the Marine Corps for 25 years. The Camp was established in 1942, and prior to that time, the area was privately owned and was part of the Rancho Santa Margarita y los Flores.

The Department of Parks and Recreation noted that only minimum facilities will be available to the public during the April 3-11 special fund raising opener.

The areas for public use will be old Highway 101, where camping will take place and day use parking will be provided, three trails to the beach, and the 3-1/2 miles of beach itself. Visitors will be required to stay on the three designated trails between the old highway and the beach.

Entrance to San Onofre Bluffs State Beach is off new Highway 101, just south of the city of San Clemente. Basile Road leads to the entrance. Follow the signs to the San Onofre Nuclear Generating Plant, as the beach starts just south of the plant. For more information about the project, call (213) 620-3342.
